

REMARKS

The rejections of the prior claims under 35 USC 101 and 112, second paragraph, are traversed by new claims 50-64 that claim the invention with the useful, concrete and tangible results required by the Interim Guidelines for Examination of Patent Applications for Subject Matter Eligibility and the complete real world practical use required for all cases.

Independent claims 50 and 64 are directed to the function of the method previously claimed in determining exposure of a vehicle to a source point of terrain, which meets all the above requirements.

Reconsideration and allowance are, therefore, requested.

Respectfully submitted,
